AUGUST 9 | VIRTUAL EVENT

Surfers, scientists, and survivors will come together to support the fight against cancer at the 27th annual Luau and Legends of Surfing Invitational. Instead of surfing the waves, participants are invited to surf the web as they “CrowdSurf for a Cure,” raising money for research, education, and clinical care at Moores Cancer Center at UC San Diego Health. Donors can make charitable contributions to support different luau teams. This year’s Rell Sun Award will be presented to physician-scientist Catriona Jamieson, MD, PhD and co-founder and executive chairman of Endeavor Biomedicines Jon Hood, PhD. The featured artist is Southern California surfer Andy Davis. Since its inception in 1993, the event has raised nearly $10 million. luaulegendsofsurfing.org

Sips for Seniors

AUGUST 20 | VIRTUAL EVENT

Serving Seniors is hosting a virtual happy hour fundraising event from 5-6:30pm to help support low-income and homeless seniors in our community. The free event will feature live entertainment, prize drawings, a live auction, and a fund-a-need campaign to help seniors directly impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic. Attendees will also hear firsthand from senior clients and key leadership members of the Serving Seniors team. While food insecurity, affordable housing, and senior isolation have been issues affecting the community for years, the global pandemic has heightened these issues more than ever before. Serving Seniors has grown from distributing approximately 70,000 meals per month in March to more than 100,000+ in June, demonstrating the immense need for food assistance in the community. servingseniors.org/sipsforseniors
